

YOU CAN STILL EARN YOUR TOBACCO INCENTIVE

Find the activity that's right for you.

We're so glad you chose to participate in your company-sponsored tobacco incentive program, designed to support you in meeting your personal health goals.

The incentive program provides opportunities to earn rewards for completing activities. Some goal activities may require meeting a health standard or health improvement goal.

If you feel that you can't meet a goal because of your health or other reasons, you may still be able to earn rewards in other ways. These options may include completing a different activity, participating in a learning event, working with your health care provider or getting a waiver. For more details and contact information, please check your company's incentive program materials.

Every eligible employee has the opportunity to earn the full reward.
